The National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives (NOBLE) Encourages All Americans To Vote During The 2018 Midterm Elections

[Alexandria, VA] Election Day is a day to ensure that you let your voice be heard at the ballot box. The National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives (NOBLE) is encouraging all Americans to vote regardless of political party.

NOBLE's mission is to ensure equity in the administration of justice in the provision of public service to all communities, and to serve as the conscience of law enforcement by being committed to justice by action. Election Day is a day of action where every vote counts. American history is filled with stories of people of all races, genders and ethnicities fighting and dying for the right to vote.

"Voting is a civil right that allows Americans to choose elected officials that represent their interests and concerns. When we vote we have an opportunity to make a difference in the lives of others and ourselves," stated Vera Bumpers, NOBLE National President. "Your elected officials are hired by you, and today you get to choose who represents you and our democracy. Voters should not only know the candidates that are running for office, but also understand the issues and how each candidate plans to address them."

In the words of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, "Nobody will ever deprive the American people of the right to vote, except the American people themselves, and the only way they could do this is by not voting."

Please check your state's official Board of Elections website to confirm your polling location.
